Customer Reviews

This book is a perfect choice for teaching a family law course in any law school. It is very easy to read and to learn from. The authors chose great cases for this book. Would recommend to any professor looking for a casebook to teach their family law class with. I only leave 4 and 5 star reviews for products that I would purchase again and recommend to friends and family.

No issues. product came as expected. Standard law textbook. little writing in it, not that I would have cared.

Book arrived almost torn away from the binding

Got me through Law School.

waste of time

This is a wonderful textbook for the study of family law. There also is a supplement, but it wasn't used in my class even though the professor 'required' it. Anyways, I find the cases mentioned in the book (though hopefully standard among the other family law books) to be well edited and incredibly interesting! I really do like the thought-provoking aspect of reading about family law, especially now that it's such a big controversy with same-sex marriages, etc. It mentions the channeling function of family law, and again, I found it fascinating and look at the role of government in a private household much differently after going through this book. I would even go on a limb and say that if you just wanted to learn about family law without taking the class, this textbook does a great job educating you in a meaningful way and still manages to pique/keep your interest.

Got the job done.

The description for this book was incorrect. It said it was light highlighting and not a lot of writing. I always spent a little extra money to get the best used copy and those that specify that there is not a lot of highlighting because it is distracting. Unfortunately this seller was not honest in his description, the entire book was highlighted, not even useful its as if the person had just highlighted every word they were reading, and then refused to let me return the book or get a refund. I would not recommend buying from this seller as you probably will not get the item as it is described!!!
