Borch, a cartographic publishing company from Germany, makes tough, long-lasting maps with non-toxic, environmentally responsible lamination material.

Great map. Easy to find things.

Well made and nicely laminated. Print is a bit small but my 'cheaters' make it workable.

very good map.

Excellent map! It provides a good 80% of the city and is easy to read with the coloured cartography.

It also provides a great U Bahn map for people who need the metro to get around. I highly recommend this map for people going to Munich.

This was very nice - perfect for our trip. It is very durable plastic. It has a blown-up map of the altstadt and a larger map showing the rest of the city. It only has a smaller and less detailed map of the the outlying areas (e.g., towards the airport), so if that is what you need, then it will probably be less useful to you.

Borch Maps are really well done. They present the "big picture" and the enlarged "close up." I also like their maps of public transportation and top tourist sites. They are my favorite maps.

I needed this map before going to Munich late March and it was a very helpful for getting around, it had a transportation guide as well for the Trains.

We used this while traveling in Munich and constantly referred to it. It had everything we needed to know for getting around the city while walking(including the S-bahn and U-bahn stops) and it came in handy time after time. It was helpful that it was laminated so it didn't rip or fall apart if it got wet.
