Customer Reviews

"Both children and adults will be moved by this beautifully illustrated fable."--Animal Welfare Institute

"Tyger! Tyger! demonstrates the physical connection and the spiritual bond between humans and animals, illustrated in rich blues, oranges, and greens and velvety textures. The beautiful and 'fearful symmetry' of the tigers, the two-page spreads, and the darkness lifted by the tigers and the monks' images are riveting." Multicultural Review "[a] one-of-a-kind picturebook for anyone who has ever admired the tiger."--Children's Bookwatch

Elizabeth Stanley grew up in the country town of Mildura, Australia. She was educated at the University of Melbourne, following which she worked as an English teacher and an educational psychologist for fifteen years. She devoted the next period of life to extensive travel in Europe, Asia, India and Nepal.

Award-winning children's book creator Elizabeth Stanley presents Tyger! Tyger!, a gorgeous picturebook based on a real-life Buddhist monastery in Thailand that has given sanctuary to one of the world's most endangered animals, the Indo-Chinese tiger. Hauntingly illustrated in glorious full color, Tyger! Tyger! tells of the poaching that is slaughtering these animals - a particularly beautiful yet sad picture shows a murdered tiger shot in the forehead - and the mysterious guidance that led the monks take in tiger cubs and create a moat protecting the tigers in their monastery. A one-page afterword offers more facts about this amazing animal sanctuary, in this one-of-a-kind picturebook for anyone who has ever admired the tiger.
