Customer Reviews

John Carroll, a full-time motoring journalist, has specialised in motoring topics for books and magazines for many years. He has written several books about tractors and a number on other forms of transport. Currently he is the editor of 4x4 magazine, Britain's longest running and best selling title devoted to all makes and models of 4x4 vehicles. --This text refers to an out of print or unavailable edition of this title.

This book is interesting but there are many incorrect descriptions and photo identifications. Does not contain many details. NOT recommended if you want accurate information.

This is a complete book on all the tractors ever made and the details of the companies that make them and which Corporations owns which tractors and equipment

Bought as a gift! 70 year old tractor collector loves this book! Brings it when they travel south for winter even! haha Great Book

I purchased this book as a gift about a week ago. It arrived yesterday. Nearly half of the pages of the book were stuck together. The book had been advertised as "very good condition" but that was not the case. Even a preliminary review of this particular book, even a thumb-through, would have identified the problems of the numerous, and I mean numerous pages that were stuck together. I will return the book, probably eat the cost, and I will NEVER buy another product from this seller. Buyer be ware!

beautifully illustrated book

I thought it covered many makes and histories of the different manufactures.
