Peggy Parish was born and grew up in Manning, South Carolina. Before moving to New York City, she taught school in the Panhandle country and in coal-mining areas. Her first job in New York City was with the Girl Scouts, and she now teaches the third grade at the Dalton School in Manhattan.

Miss Parish is the author of several other books for children, including the popular Let's Be Indians. Wallace Tripp studied at the Boston Museum of Fine Arts. He has illustrated more than fifty children's books. Mr. Tripp and his wife run a greeting card company in Peterborough, New Hampshire. They have three children, two dogs, and two cats.

Great book !

This is a delightful book

I usually try to buy books for under $5. Buut, this one is worth every penny. It's classic and well made for years of use. I read Amelia Bedelia when I was a small child and now my daughter can too.

Quality product and great story for young kids.

Great book for my first grader. Nice font and pictures.

Older book so kind of funny to go back in time. My 7 years old loves the story. Funny and easy read for beginner learner.

Love these long time stories. Now I am able to share these with my grands and my adopted little ones. I am happy to have found them here on .

My granddaughter loves the Amelia Bedelia book series. They are so funny and keeps young girls/boys attention.Keep them coming.
